In virtually all new homes, extraction from extractor hoods, baths and possibly utility room, today connected to a central heat recovery system in the home, which sucks uniformly in all rooms around the clock. THERMEX Ventmex, has been developed in collaboration with the Institute of Technology, and it boosts the heat recovery system when you switch on the hood. At the same time, valves in the bath and possibly brewed to a minimum, so that the suction is strengthened and concentrated in the hood during cooking. When the hood is switched off, valves in the bath reopen and possibly utility room. Setting basic ventilation is done easily using THERMEX App.
